

QA Assessment

As a user, I want to view and customize hoodies on the Vistaprint website so that I can purchase the desired product with my preferred design, quantity, and size.

URL: <https://www.vistaprint.in/clothing-bags/sweatshirts/hoodies>

Acceptance Criteria:

Existing Functionality:

1. The website must display multiple product images of hoodies on the product page.
2. The product description should be visible to the user on the product page.
3. The user should be able to select the desired colour of the hoodie from the available options.
4. The website should allow the user to select the quantity of hoodies they wish to purchase and show the price calculation accordingly.
5. The user should be able to select a pre-existing design or upload their own design for the hoodie.
6. If the user selects a pre-existing design, they must input any text they wish to see on the product to proceed.
7. After inputting the text, the website should redirect the user to a Product Review page where they can view the design with the added text.
8. The user must click on a checkbox to confirm that they have reviewed and approved the design.
9. The website should allow the user to select the size of the hoodie from the available options and add the product to their cart.
10. The website should allow the user to edit the product details, such as the quantity or size, on the Cart page before proceeding to checkout.
11. The user should be able to select their address and preferred payment option to complete the order creation process.
12. The website must provide a confirmation page to the user before the order is finalized, displaying the product details, price, shipping address, and payment option for the user's review.
13. The website should send an order confirmation email to the user after the order is placed, containing the order details and estimated delivery date.
14. The website should be working fine in mobile layout or ipad layout.

Enhancement:

1. The website must display product reviews on the Product Review page, if any exists.
2. The website should provide the user with the option to add a review of the product after they have completed their purchase.
3. The website should define the most sold quantity per order as "Recommended" for the user's reference.
  - a. Most Sold Quantity is defined as per the life time sales for that product
  - b. Example :: Till today we found many customers have created order with 7 qty

Expectation from your side:

- Prepare test scenarios for existing functionality and enhancements covering relevant testing types and also create test cases with test data.
- Time estimation for test execution
